

The Many Faces of Provence Tour

Tour Overview

Tour Dates: You may begin this tour on any day, but please note that bike pick-up and return cannot occur on a Sunday. We ask that tour participants arrive at the tour's starting point at least one day prior to the start of their tour to avoid the impact of possible travel delays. No activities, including bike pickup, are scheduled for this day. You will pick up your rental bikes and begin your cycling on the following morning. See Schedule for blackout dates and additional tour scheduling details.

Location: Located in the far southeast of France, Provence is known for its lovely Mediterranean climate, fields of sunflowers, vineyards, the Impressionists, its Papal palace and Roman ruins. Though most people are somewhat familiar with this region of France, few realize just how diverse are the many areas that comprise Provence, or how deeply rooted the region's history is in that of ancient Rome.

This tour is based in Avignon, which is located 3 - 4 hours from Paris' Charles de Gaulle Airport by express train.

Tour Type: Hub & Spoke Tour

Terrain: Easy to moderately challenging. The terrain, like everything about this region, is diverse. While there are lots of ups and downs on this tour (some challenging), you will also enjoy long, relatively flat stretches of effortless cycling.

Length: 3 days / 4 nights to 5 days / 6 nights.

Distance: Choose from 5 day-trip rides ranging from 25 - 38 miles (41 - 61 km) in length.

Highlights:

- Roman ruins as impressive as those of Italy; particularly the grand aqueduct of the region, the Pont du Gard; and the Triumphal Arch and amphitheatre at Orange.
- The sheer beauty of the Mediterranean landscapes and the play of light that so captivated Impressionists like Van Gogh.
- An incredibly varied geography including mountain ranges, semi-arid garrigue, rolling vineyards, and cliff-studded river valleys.
- Enjoy free wine tasting opportunities nearly everywhere along your route.
- Perched medieval villages bathed in the warm Provencal sun.
- The colorful city of Avignon with its medieval wall surrounding the city and its former Papal palace.

Day Trip Descriptions

Hub 1: Avignon

Avignon is a vibrant southern city, full of historical sights. Must-sees include the city's many museums, churches and the Palais des Papes, the residence of the Popes who moved here from Rome in the 14th century when Rome was politically unstable. Avignon's medieval center is completely surrounded by ramparts, giving the city a most unusual look.

Spoke 1: Vintage Vaucluse

Route: Begins and ends in Avignon. Largely flat with just a couple of climbs.

Distance: 61 km / 38 miles

Description: This day trip takes you through the many vineyards of the Vaucluse Department and offers two noteworthy destinations: Isle-sur-la-Sorgue, with the five branches of the River Sorgue meandering through it; and the charming village of Fontaine de Vaucluse, where you can visit the source of the River Sorgue. Gushing out of a 230 meter high cliff, the underground spring is the world's fifth most powerful resurgent river. This route features peaceful roads through woods and vineyards; and quaint tiny villages to explore such as le Thor and Jonquerettes.

Spoke 2: Papal Grapes & Orange

Route: Begins in Avignon and ends in Orange. You will return to Avignon by train with your bike. All trains permit bikes, the trains are frequent, the ride takes approximately 20 minutes, and bikes travel free of charge. The route is mostly flat except for the areas around Châteauneuf-du-Pape.

Distance: 41 km / 25 miles

Description: This day trip takes you through the vineyards that belonged to the papacy when, during the 14th century, the popes resided in Avignon and maintained a summer residence near Châteauneuf-du-Pape. You'll leave Avignon by way of the Isle de la Barthelasse, an island in the middle of the Rhone River with splendid views of Avignon. The route takes you down tiny roads through beautiful orchards, along the cliff-studded Rhone River to the village of Roquemaure, and then to the vineyards of Châteauneuf-du-Pape. Châteauneuf is a world renowned center of wine making, as the Châteauneuf vintage is one of the world's most exclusive appellations.

From Châteauneuf you'll cycle through beautiful vineyards to the historic city of Orange. Orange has a long history that goes back to the days of the Romans. In fact, the Roman Theater (Théâtre Antique) is the best preserved in the whole of the Roman empire, and is justifiably the pride of the city. In the second half of the 12th century Orange became the seat of a small principality called Comtat Venaissin, which became a part of the Netherlands in the 16th century. It was not until 1713 that Orange became part of France. All of Orange's principle sights are located in the lovely old town center. Orange is a lively, colorful city that will seduce you with its charms.

Spoke 3: Vintage Heights

Route: Begins and ends in Avignon. One long steep climb near the beginning of the ride provides most of your elevation gain. The remainder of the route is gently rolling with just a few short climbs.

Distance: 46 km / 29 miles

Description: This day trip takes you to the lovely wine villages of the Cotes du Rhone appellation in the uplands of the Gard Department. The route begins with a long, tough climb to the village of Sauveterre, a small village with a maze of narrow streets built along the foot of a steep escarpment. With your elevation gain behind you, you're on to Pujaut, another charming village and your entry into the highland vineyards of the Gard. From Pujaut you'll continue west to the village of Tavel, celebrated for its world-renowned rosé wines. From Tavel you'll make a loop through the surrounding vineyards, feeling very much as if you're atop the world.

Turning back towards Avignon, your route takes you over tiny roads, through more vineyards, and then onto the Route des Falaises (the Cliffs Route) for several kilometers of dramatic mountain beauty -- with no climb required. Then you cycle onward to Villeneuve-lez-Avignon by way of another series of gorgeous, winding, tiny lanes that feel more like bike paths than roads. Avignon's sister city, Villeneuve-lez-Avignon is an historic city that was established by the cardinals in the 14th century when the papal city of Avignon had no remaining living space. In addition to its many splendid sights such as the massive citadel known as Fort St André, the Papal Monastery of Val de Benedictin, and the Tour Philippe le Bel, Villeneuve commands incredible views of Avignon and Mount Ventoux.

Spoke 4: Pont du Gard

Route: Begins and ends in Avignon. Mostly gently rolling terrain with a few moderately challenging climbs. An optional side trip to the village of Castillon-du-Gard provides additional mileage and challenge.

Distance: 60 km / 37 miles

Description: The route to the Pont du Gard is a wonder of tiny, beautiful roads almost completely free of vehicle traffic. The journey is a joy in and of itself, passing through a number of charming medieval villages like 16th century Aramon, Théziers, and Remoulins. If you're visiting in September, you may even experience Aramon's running of the bulls!

Of course, the day's primary destination is the Roman aqueduct called the Pont du Gard. Constructed by the Romans in the 1st century to transport clean drinking water to the Roman city of Nîmes, this remarkable aqueduct bridges the Gard today as it has for 2000 years. The Pont was in use for 1000 years, of which 500 were without maintenance; it survives today in nearly intact condition. The area surrounding the Pont du Gard is a park, complete with riverside beaches and a lovely picnic area.

You can cycle across the aqueduct, and you will definitely do so if you're making the optional side trip to the magnificently perched village of Castillon-du-Gard. This detour adds 11 km / 7 miles to your cycling day, and a very long climb. Your efforts are rewarded by one of France's most beautiful villages and extraordinary views.

Spoke 5: Tarascon & Beaucaire

Route: Begins and ends in Avignon. However, you do have the option of returning to Avignon from Tarascon by fast, frequent trains that permit bikes at no additional charge. With the exception of one very moderate climb, the route is almost completely flat along very quiet roads.

Distance: 59 km / 36 miles

Description: On the way to this ride's primary destination you'll cycle through a lovely region known as La Montagnette, after the range of hills that parallels the Rhone as it flows southwest from Avignon. The setting is beautiful -- a typical Provencal landscape of rock escarpments: hillsides fragrant with wild flowers and aromatic herbs: and quiet hollows sheltering olive, almond, and apricot trees, pines, and poplars. Your route takes you through the Montagnette village of Boulbon, a lovely historic village dominated by its ancient defensive castle which for centuries stood as a sentinel for the Counts of Provence against the Kingdom of France.

From Boulbon a series of quiet, scenic roads -- one of which follows an ancient protective levy -- takes you on to Tarascon and Beaucaire. Facing one another on either side of the Rhone River, they have been centers of commerce since antiquity. Tarascon boasts a fairytale 15th century chateau, considered to be one of the finest fortified medieval castles in the whole of France. Tarascon is a lively, authentic town with no pretention and is a wonderful town for strolling or enjoying a sidewalk cafe.

Beaucaire has a beautiful waterfront. In addition to the Rhone on its eastern border, its southern border is framed by a wide canal that connects the city with villages to the west. The principal part of town lines the quays along the canal. Beaucaire also has a castle -- dating back to the 11th century -- though very little of it can be visited apart from the gardens. Like Tarascon, Beaucaire's medieval center is a maze of narrow streets that are great for exploring.

Your return route to Arles follows the wooded shores of the Rhone and passes through the medieval village of Vallabrègues.
